Chapter 2

General Competitive Marksmanship Policy

2–1. Small arms marksmanship

Participation in military and civilian-sponsored small arms marksmanship competitions offers Soldiers the opportunity to refine marksmanship skills, compete against other military and civilian marksmen, and earn superior marksmanship awards in addition to the Army basic marksmanship awards available through annual qualification standards.

- a.* Army personnel of all components will be provided opportunities to prepare for, and participate in, small arms marksmanship competitions. These preparations, which include those for international competitions, are classified as training.
- b.* Authority for planning, directing, conducting, supervising, and publicizing competitive marksmanship activities within the Army is delegated to the lowest possible command element. Plans for competitive marksmanship activities will include provisions to publicize excellence in marksmanship, both internally and externally.
- c.* Competitive marksmanship-match programs at all levels within the Army will include combat-type EIC matches. Level 1 matches will be restricted to the combat course of fire. Range commands will be in accordance with training doctrine. In addition, the program of matches may include an EIC rifle and pistol match, provided adequate facilities are available.
- d.* Match programs should emphasize and encourage the following:
 - (1) A variety of shooting styles, distances, and timing of firing with as many weapons and weapon systems as possible.
 - (2) Training of experienced competitive marksmen.
 - (3) Development of shooter and/or instructors.
 - (4) Off-duty competitive marksmanship activities.
 - (5) Development of shooters or instructors who may be used to supervise weapons training and marksmanship activities within their units and commands.
- e.* ACOM participation in international level competitions is authorized and encouraged.
- f.* Army personnel selected to represent the Army in Armed Forces (inter-Service), national, and international level competitions may be assigned at such places as appropriate to—
 - (1) Prepare for and participate in authorized competitions.
 - (2) Plan, observe, or coordinate matters pertaining to authorized competitions.

2–2. Regular Army, National Guard, Army Reserve, and Reserve Officers' Training Corps non-distinguished competitors

The Regular Army, National Guard, Army Reserve, and ROTC non-distinguished competitors are subject to special requirements when entering approved EIC matches conducted at civilian-sponsored regional and state championship matches. These competitors may not exceed the 14 credit points allowed in EIC competitions at this level. Credit points earned in the national trophy individual rifle or pistol matches are not counted as part of the 14-point maximum.

2–3. Distinguished designation

- a.* Credit points held by non-distinguished military personnel and civilians who become members of the Army may be transferred and applied toward an Army distinguished designation.
- b.* Civilians or military personnel from other Services who attained distinguished designation prior to entry in the Army may be so recognized by the Army upon proper documentation and may be awarded a distinguished badge, if appropriate.

Chapter 3 Civilian Matches

3–1. Participation in civilian matches

Soldiers may compete in matches registered or approved by the National Rifle Association (NRA), the Corporation for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and Firearms Safety (CPRPFS), or other civilian-sponsored competitions. All Soldiers, regardless of their duty status, must compete in the military category pursuant to rules governing these events.

3–2. National Matches and National Trophy Matches

- a.* Rules and regulations as approved by the CPRPFS govern participation in the National Trophy Matches.
- b.* The National Matches, commonly referred to as the National Trophy Matches, are Army-sponsored events, and are considered military events for participating Soldiers. Regular Army, Army Reserve, and National Guard personnel may not enter the National Matches or other EIC matches in the civilian category pursuant to this regulation, and Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP) High-Power Rifle and Pistol Competition Rules 2.6.2, 2.6.4, 9.1.2, and 9.2.1.

3–3. Excellence-in-competition matches

- a.* Each individual is authorized to fire for credit points in no more than five recognized EIC matches with each weapon (Service rifle and Service pistol) during the calendar year. These five EIC matches do not include the National Trophy Individual Match conducted as part of the National Matches. Soldiers who participate in a National Trophy Individual Match during the National Matches will have a total of six EIC matches for the calendar year.
- b.* An individual who fires in any portion of a match is considered to have participated in the entire match.
- c.* Credit is awarded for unassisted individual performance using the Service rifle or Service pistol.
- d.* Total credit points for any one match constitute a leg and credit points are awarded toward any of the following:
 - (1) Distinguished designation.
 - (2) EIC badges.
 - (3) Distinguished designation badges.
- e.* Non-distinguished persons are not authorized to enter EIC matches for practice on a noncredit basis.
- f.* The Commander, USAMU, in accordance with AR 600–8–22, will announce EIC awards to eligible personnel.
- g.* The restriction on the limit of combat points is rescinded. Individuals are eligible to earn a distinguished badge shooting only combat matches; however, a prerequisite leg is required at Level 3 to earn the distinguished status.
- h.* In combat rifle EIC matches, Soldiers may use either iron sights, or optics. If optics are used, they must be consistent with optics fielded to the operating force as prescribed by the U.S. Army Infantry School. Specialty optics that are only available to U.S. Army Special Operations Command (USASOC) units are not permissible. Civilian equivalent optics may be used, provided that they conform to the same specifications as the military equivalent. Optics of any kind will not be used during pistol EIC matches. Ultimately, the match director serves as the presiding authority for equipment used during their matches; however, match directors will not grossly adjust the parameters of this regulation.
- i.* In EIC matches, ammunition supplied by the match director will have an assigned Department of Defense (DOD) identification code and will be the same for all competitors, unless specified in the program.
- j.* An EIC match will not be conducted without being part of a competitive event consisting of at least one additional individual match for each EIC discipline fired.
- k.* ROTC cadets and cadre assigned to U.S. Army Cadet Command are the only personnel authorized to compete in USACC Elementary EIC events.
- l.* Courses of fire, targets, and equipment listed in appendixes B and C are the only approved EIC courses of fire that will be conducted.

3–4. Non-Army match participation

The restriction on the number of non-Army matches that can be fired per calendar year is rescinded. All non-Army matches are considered civilian matches, with the exception of DOD inter-Service marksmanship competitions and the National Matches. Soldiers may fire in as many civilian matches as they desire per calendar year, provided they do not exceed the

Appendix D

Internal Control Evaluation

D-1. Function

The function of this evaluation is for conducting the Small Arms Competitive Marksmanship Program.

D-2. Purpose

The purpose of this evaluation is to help ACOMs, Army service component commands (ASCCs), and DRUs in evaluating the key internal controls listed. It is not intended to cover all controls.

D-3. Instructions

Answers must be based upon the actual testing for key internal controls (for example, document analysis, direct observation, and interviewing). The key controls are direct observation and document analysis by the ACOMs, ASCCs, and DRUs Small Arms Competitive Marksmanship manager. Answers that indicate deficiencies must be explained and the corrective action identified in supporting documentation. These internal controls must be evaluated at least once every 5 years. Certification that the evaluation has been conducted must be accomplished on DA Form 11-2 (Internal Control Evaluation Certification).

D-4. Test questions

- a.* Did ACOMs, ASCCs, and DRUs develop Small Arms Competitive Marksmanship Program standard operating procedures, including emergency procedures, for small arms use at the competition?
- b.* Did ACOMs, ASCCs, and DRUs ensure personnel are trained in operator preventive maintenance checks and services, safe competition practices, and correct firing techniques?
- c.* Did ACOMs, ASCCs, and DRUs ensure small arms competitor candidates meet state or host nation small arms completion requirements?

D-5. Supersession

This is the first evaluation for conducting the Small Arms Competitive Marksmanship Program.

D-6. Comments

Help make this a better tool for evaluating internal controls. Submit comments to the Headquarters, Department of the Army, Deputy Chief of Staff, G-3/5/7 Training Directorate (DAMO-TR), 450 Army Pentagon, Room 2D639, Washington, DC 20310-0450.

Civilian Marksmanship Program and Corporation for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and Firearms Safety

The Civilian Marksmanship Program promotes firearm safety training and rifle practice for all qualified U.S. citizens with special emphasis on youth. The Civilian Marksmanship Program operates through a network of affiliated shooting clubs and associations that covers every state in the United States. The clubs and associations offer firearms safety training and marksmanship courses as well as the opportunity for continued practice and competition. The U.S. Congress created the Civilian Marksmanship Program. The original purpose was to provide civilians an opportunity to learn and practice marksmanship skills, so they would be skilled marksmen if later called on to serve the U.S. military. Over the years the emphasis of the program shifted to focus on youth development through marksmanship. From 1916 until 1996, the U.S. Army administered the Civilian Marksmanship Program. In 1996, Congress created the CPRPFS to take over supervision and control of the Civilian Marksmanship Program.

Credit points

The cumulative total of all points earned toward the Distinguished Rifle or Pistol Shot badges. Upon placing in the top 10 percent of an approved EIC match for the first time, Soldiers will be awarded a bronze EIC badge in the respective discipline that points were earned. Soldiers will continue to accumulate credit points for placements in subsequent EIC matches, and will be awarded a silver EIC badge for the discipline in which points were earned upon accumulating 20 total points. Soldiers will receive the Distinguished Rifle or Distinguished Pistol Shot badge once 30 credit points are accumulated within the respective discipline.

Director of Civilian Marksmanship

An individual appointed by the Board of Directors, CPRPFS, who is responsible for the daily operations of the CPRPFS and the Civilian Marksmanship Program.

Excellence-in-competition badge

An award presented for placing in the top 10 percent of the eligible non-distinguished competitors in an EIC match.

Excellence-in-competition match

Installation championships

Matches conducted at the installation level prior to the ACOM and continental Army championships.

Leg

A term derived from the stand or legs upon which a trophy cup is placed. In order to take permanent possession of certain trophies in the past, the trophy had to be won more than one time and the winner took possession of one of the legs. Previous regulations required that Army competitors win EIC badges in specific matches, coined leg matches, prior to being awarded a distinguished designation badge. The present system is based on a credit point system. Total credit points earned in any one match constitutes a leg.
