Chapter 2
General Competitive Marksmanship Policy

2–1. Small arms marksmanship
Participation in military and civilian-sponsored small arms marksmanship competitions offers Soldiers the opportunity to refine marksmanship skills, compete against other military and civilian marksmen, and earn superior marksmanship awards in addition to the Army basic marksmanship awards available through annual qualification standards.

a. Army personnel will be provided opportunities to prepare for and participate in small arms marksmanship competitions. These preparations, which include those for international competitions, are classified as training.

b. Authority for planning, directing, conducting, supervising, and publicizing competitive marksmanship activities within the Army is delegated to the lowest possible command element. Plans for competitive marksmanship activities will include provisions to publicize excellence in marksmanship, both internally and externally.

c. Competitive marksmanship match programs at all levels within the Army will include combat-type EIC matches. Level 1 matches will be restricted to the combat course of fire. Range commands will be in accordance with training doctrine. In addition, the program of matches may include a national match course EIC rifle and pistol match, provided adequate facilities are available.

d. Match programs should emphasize and encourage the following:
   (1) A variety of shooting styles, distances, and timing of firing with as many weapons and weapon systems as possible.
   (2) Training of experienced competitive marksmen.
   (3) Development of shooter and/or instructors.
   (4) Off-duty competitive marksmanship activities.
   (5) Development of shooters or instructors who may be used to supervise weapons training and marksmanship activities within their units and commands.

e. ACOM participation in international level competitions is authorized and encouraged.

f. Army personnel selected to represent the Army in Armed Forces (Inter-service), national, and international level competitions may be assigned at such places as appropriate to—
   (1) Prepare for and participate in authorized competitions.
   (2) Plan, observe, or coordinate matters pertaining to authorized competitions.

2–2. Active Army and Reserve Component nondistinguished competitors
a. The Active Army and Reserve Component nondistinguished competitors are subject to special requirements when entering approved EIC matches conducted at civilian-sponsored regional and state championship matches. These competitors must sign a statement affirming that they have not exceeded the 14 credit points allowed for Active Army and Reserve Component personnel in EIC competitions at this level. Credit points earned in the national trophy individual rifle or pistol matches are not counted as part of the 14-point maximum.

b. Competitors must also provide the match sponsor a listing of their participation in Service matches during the current calendar year.

c. Failure to provide the information in paragraphs 2–2a and 2–2b may be cause for disqualification and may prohibit participation in other EIC matches.

2–3. Distinguished designation
a. Credit points held by nondistinguished military personnel and civilians who become members of the Army may be transferred and applied toward an Army distinguished designation.

b. Civilians or military personnel from other Services who attained distinguished designation prior to entry in the Army may be so recognized by the Army upon proper documentation and may be awarded a distinguished badge, if appropriate.

2–4. Support of competitive marksmanship activities
The Army may provide logistical support to the Civilian Marksmanship Program for competitions and other activities, subject to the following limitations:

a. All weapons, equipment, and targets required to support marksmanship training which are chargeable to appropriated funds must be included in applicable tables of allowances.

b. Commercial ammunition is authorized when Service ammunition is not available. However, Army units are not authorized to use unit funds to purchase munitions. Title 10, U.S. Code (10 USC), 31 USC, and Defense Finance and Accounting Service-Indiana Manual 37–100 (DFAS–IN 37–100) prohibit Army units from using funds for other than their intended purpose and specify that munitions may be purchased only with procurement ammunition, Army funds or missile procurement, Army funds, which are controlled at headquarters. It is a Federal offense for units to procure munitions using anything other than procurement ammunition, Army or missile procurement, Army funds. See AR
Civilian and Inter-service Matches

3–1. Participation in civilian and Inter-service matches
Soldiers may compete in matches registered or approved by the National Rifle Association (NRA) or other civilian-sponsored competitions. However, if a Soldier competes in such a match with a Service or match rifle, at ranges between 200 through 600 yards and/or meters, the Soldier must compete in the military category if either their transportation or other travel expenses are paid, wholly or in part, from appropriated funds, or if the Soldier uses government-issued equipment or ammunition.

3–2. National matches and national trophy matches
   a. Rules and regulations as approved by the Corporation for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and Firearms Safety (CPRPFS) govern participation in the national trophy matches.
   b. Active Army and Reserve Component personnel may not enter the national matches or other EIC matches in the civilian category.

3–3. Excellence-in-competition matches
   a. Each individual is authorized to fire for credit points in no more than four recognized EIC matches with each weapon (Service rifle and Service pistol) during the calendar year.
   b. An individual who fires in any portion of a match is considered to have participated in the entire match.
   c. Credit is awarded for unassisted individual performance using the Service rifle or Service pistol and Service ammunition.
   d. Total credit points for any one match constitute a leg and credit points are awarded towards any of the following:
      (1) Distinguished designation.
      (2) EIC badges.
      (3) Distinguished designation badges.
   e. Nondistinguished persons are not authorized to enter EIC matches for practice on a noncredit basis.
   f. The Commander, USAMU, in accordance with AR 600–8–22, will make announcement of EIC awards to eligible personnel.
   g. The restriction on the limit of combat points is rescinded. Individuals are eligible to earn a distinguished badge shooting only combat matches; however, a prerequisite leg is required at Level 3 to earn the distinguished status.
   h. In EIC matches, iron sights only will continue to be used and will not be replaced by optics.
   i. In EIC matches, ammunition supplied by the match director will have an assigned Department of Defense identification code and will be the same for all competitors, unless specified in the program.
   j. An EIC match will not be conducted without being part of a competitive event consisting of at least one additional individual match for each EIC discipline fired.

3–4. Non-Army match participation
Two non-Army matches will be allowed per calendar year for a maximum lifetime total of 14 points. Once 14 points have been earned, further participation in non-Army matches is prohibited. There is no match substitution restriction but the total number of EIC matches remains at four per calendar year. Participation eligibility is according to table 3–1.

3–5. Army component-sponsored competitions
   a. Competitors from other Services and U.S. civilians may be invited to participate in Army component-sponsored competitions except for the U.S. Army small arms championships. Participation eligibility is determined according to table 3–1.
   b. Table 3–1 should be used by Army component personnel to determine the eligibility of personnel for the various Army component-sponsored EIC matches. Participants identified in table 3–1 include the Army National Guard (ARNG), the U.S. Army Reserve (USAR), the U.S. Navy (USN), the U.S. Marine Corps (USMC), the U.S. Navy Reserve (USNR), the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve (USMCR), the U.S. Air Force (USAF), the U.S. Air Force Reserve (USAFR), the Air National Guard (ANG), the U.S. Coast Guard (USCG) civilians, and U.S. Military Academy (USMA).

Internal Control Evaluation

B–1. Function
The function of this checklist is for conducting the Small Arms Civilian Marksmanship Program.

B–2. Purpose
The purpose of this evaluation checklist is to assist the ACOMs, Army service component commands (ASCCs), and DRUs in evaluating the key internal controls listed. It is not intended to cover all controls.

B–3. Instructions
Answers must be based upon the actual testing for key internal controls (for example, document analysis, direct observation, and interviewing). The key controls are direct observation and document analysis by the ACOMs, ASCCs, and DRUs Small Arms Competitive Marksmanship manager. Answers that indicate deficiencies must be explained and the corrective action identified in supporting documentation. These internal controls must be evaluated at least once every 5 years. Certification that the evaluation has been conducted must be accomplished on DA Form 11–2 (Internal Control Evaluation Certification).

B–4. Test questions
a. Did ACOMs, ASCCs, and DRUs develop Small Arms Competitive Marksmanship Program standard operating procedures, including emergency procedures, for small arms use at the competition?
   b. Did ACOMs, ASCCs, and DRUs ensure personnel are trained in operator preventive maintenance checks and services, safe competition practices, and correct firing techniques?
   c. Did ACOMs, ASCCs, and DRUs ensure small arms competitor candidates meet state or host nation small arms completion requirements?

B–5. Supersession
Not applicable.

B–6. Comments
Help make this a better tool for evaluating internal controls. Submit comments to the Headquarters, Department of the Army, Deputy Chief of Staff, G–3/5/7 Training Directorate (DAMO–TR), 450 Army Pentagon, Room 2D639, Washington, DC 20310–0450.

Armed Forces (Inter-service) championships
Annual matches held at the Inter-service-level. Pistol championships are held at Fort Benning, GA and are conducted by the USAMU. The USMC, prior to the national matches, conducts rifle championships at Quantico, VA. The Army conducts Inter-service international championships at Fort Benning, GA.

Civilian Marksmanship Program and Corporation for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and Firearms Safety
The Civilian Marksmanship Program promotes firearm safety training and rifle practice for all qualified U.S. citizens with special emphasis on youth. The Civilian Marksmanship Program operates through a network of affiliated shooting clubs and associations that covers every state in the U.S. The clubs and associations offer firearms safety training and marksmanship courses as well as the opportunity for continued practice and competition. The U.S. Congress created the Civilian Marksmanship Program. The original purpose was to provide civilians an opportunity to learn and practice marksmanship skills so they would be skilled marksmen if later called on to serve the U.S. military. Over the years the emphasis of the program shifted to focus on youth development through marksmanship. From 1916 until 1996, the U.S. Army administered the Civilian Marksmanship Program. In 1996, Congress created the CPRPFS to take over administration and promotion of the Civilian Marksmanship Program.

Director of Civilian Marksmanship
An individual appointed by the Board of Directors, CPRPFS who is responsible for the daily operations of the CPRPFS and the Civilian Marksmanship Program.

Distinguished designation
Award of the Distinguished Pistol Shot or Distinguished Rifleman Badge. These awards are presented to individuals who have earned 30 credit points while firing a Service rifle or a Service pistol in EIC matches.

Excellence-in-competition badge
An award presented for placing in the top 10 percent of the eligible nondistinguished competitors in an EIC match.

Excellence-in-competition match
A match in which credit toward the distinguished designation may be earned and bronze or silver EIC badges awarded (also referred to as a leg match).

Installation championships
Matches conducted at the installation level prior to the ACOM and continental Army championships.

Leg
A term derived from the stand or legs upon which a trophy cup is placed. In order to take permanent possession of certain trophies in the past, the trophy had to be won more than one time and the winner took possession of one of the legs. Previous regulations required that Army competitors win EIC badges in specific matches, coined leg matches, prior to being awarded a distinguished designation badge. The present system is based on a credit point system. Total credit points earned in any one match constitutes a leg.

Leg match
See EIC match.
Army command and/or continental Army championships
A match held at the ACOM level or at the continental Army level prior to the Army rifle and pistol championships.

National Guard championships
Conducted annually as prescribed by the CNGB.

National matches
National matches are part of the Civilian Marksmanship Program and include the national trophy matches, the NRA’s national rifle and pistol championships, the small arms firing schools, and special events and ceremonies. The national matches are conducted annually at Camp Perry, OH.

Nondistinguished competitor
An individual who has not earned 30 credit points for the weapon being used in an EIC match.

Other approved excellence-in-competition matches
The EIC matches approved by the Board of Directors, CPRPFS, and conducted in conjunction with civilian-sponsored regional or state championships.

U.S. Army small arms championships
An annual match held at Fort Benning, GA.
